Tribute Wall

“ It broke my heart to lose you, but you didn't go alone. Part of me went with you wherever you may roam. Remembering you is easy. I do it every day, but there is an ache within my heart that will never go away.

Dave and I met through a dating app. We never met in person but we had a relationship for almost 2 years... I can't explain the connection we had but I know that it was real and true, I was loved by him. Up to this day that I'm writing in this tribute wall, I'm still in love with him. I know for sure that the love that we had is eternal.

At first I really don't have a plan on being on that dating app for too long. He saw me there and when I was about to delete it, he messaged me. I don't exactly remember how we had our conversation on that app but he was the only one I gave my contacts to...and the rest was history.

He was a kind, respectful man, and a good father and grandfather to his kids and grandchildren from what I've heard to his stories about his family. He really loved them dearly and he was always very proud of them. I never thought that this person would be my boyfriend and at the same time would now be my great love. We made plans on seeing each other but it never came true... I'm heartbroken over the fact that I was not beside him when he was hurting. I hope he would forgive me cause right now, I don't know how will I move on from this heartache. It felt like a part of me died when I found out he passed away and I was too late..

I give all the credits of all my achievements to David. He is my love, my motivator, and my inspiration in my life. I achieved so much growth, happiness, and joy with him when we were together. I love him so much. His memories will always be alive in my heart, soul, and mind.

May your soul rest peacefully, David. I love you, my great love.

Ours for all eternity, there'll be no end to our love story.
