“ Cheryl, Earl, Drue, Luke, Mia and the rest of Pops amazing family that I gotten to know over the years. Thank you for taking me under your wings and making me feel like family all those years. I am truly sorry for your great loss! Pops was a great man! He loved his family more than anything else and family came first. Whatever anyone needed he was there to help. He loved his grandchildren and great grandchildren to the moon and back. He was always there for his friends who ever needed his help. Whether it was in Louisiana or in another state if a friend called he was there. When I fell ill he and I became close friends. He first of all would cut my grass every week. (With Drue-Thank you too!). My lawnmower broke quite often and he always picked me and my broken lawn mower up and brought us to the shop and home. I would offer him money which he would never take. He would say that's what friends do. Other days we would just sit and talk for long periods of time about his wife and his family. He listened to me and all of my issues at the time. We were the perfect match! As times changed, as they always do, our times together became less and less. But we still talked on the phone and saw each other every once in awhile. He was a very good friend to me when I needed him the most. And we remained close really until his illness took over. I feel terrible I only saw him at the nursing home one time before he passed. We actually had plans for the weekend after Fathers Day for me to come. He wanted me to bring some microwave popcorn, which I already bought. I am so blessed that I got to see him one last time. We talked like we talked everyday. We talked for 2 1/2 -3 hrs. He talked a lot about his wife, his family and his life. And old times, we also talked about our friendship. He was an amazing man, he was funny, intelligent, kind, caring, a great friend, and he loved his family more than the world! He will be greatly missed by all who knew! I know I have a hole in my heart for that special man that was there when I needed him and I had no one else. We helped each other. He will be terribly missed by me! I will miss you, Pops and you and your family will be in my thoughts and prayers always. Love y'all.
