Edna was born in New Bern, N.C. She spent much of her early life there till meeting the love of her life, George Charpentier and there they began their family.

Her early years of motherhood were spent in Houma. After a few years, they made the decision to move to Abbeville, a community she proudly called home for more than 60 years.

Edna was a homemaker, who loved collecting recipes, cookbooks, and trying new foods. It brought her joy to prepare meals for family and friends. Together, her and George loved taking trips to nearby casinos. She also dedicated majority of her time to becoming a leading Avon Rep for over 30 years. These simple pleasures brought her many happy memories.

If you knew Edna, you knew she loved to talk. She never met a stranger and had a way of making everyone feel like an old friend. Whether she was sharing stories, offering a listening ear, or simply enjoying a visit, if she had the time, she'd keep the conversation going as long as you'd let her.
