“ Joel was probably the first friend I ever “lost” when he and his family left Corpus Christi, TX where he and I played baseball together and they moved overseas for his fathers’ work. Our families were good friends from baseball and he and I would often spend the night at each others’ house, but his home had a pool so it was much more fun to go there!! When they left town, they stayed at a motel and we continued our fun together. At the time of their move, they had a dog “Gypsy” who was pregnant and could not make the overseas trip until giving birth, so she stayed with us and after the event, although we didn’t want to, we sent her on her way. There was no internet then, so that was the last of our contact with Joel and this family. He was a good friend for far too short a time!!

“ I remember Joel as a loving and devoted husband. He was someone who loved being in nature and loved to travel, go camping. Joel was an avid fisherman. His sense of humor was ever-present. He had a great smile and infectious laugh. Just last summer (2021) my wife and I were so fortunate to be able to have Joel and Amy visit us while we were on vacation in Upstate New York. Joel may no longer be with us, but those fond memories will last. Peace Brother.
