“ I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. John and taking care of him for many years. Mr. John was more than a job he was part of my family. I love to cook and he loved to eat we would always plan out our grocery list and what was on the menu. Mr. John loved Gumbo and some good Ol' fried chicken. He kept me updated on everything I missed on my off days. He enjoyed singing and playing the guitar he knew when his guitar needed a good tuning. We enjoyed our times strolling to the bank and sitting outside on pretty days. Once a week we played bingo that was also, a enjoyment he loved. Mr. John never met a stranger he love to talk to everyone. He also love attending mass on Saturday. He was definitely a sweetheart and he will truly be missed.

“ Mr John was a good client to care for. John remembered my work schedule better than I did. We talk about the shows on tv and the music. We really enjoy watching the Saints game. RIP John “ "Brud" was never lacking in a good wrestling story. As long as you had time to listen, he provided the play-by-play details. RIP, until we meet again! Prayers for you and your family.
