“ I will forever remember him. He was my first client for my first new business, but quickly became family to myself, family, and all my friends. We all grew to love him and enjoy his sly comments. He told me rules I should implement to my guys. I remember taking him to go get this hair cut after not having one for a long time. He wanted me to take this picture and send to Anne. He was so proud of the new look. I hate that I couldn't tell him a proper good bye. 😞
