“ My aunt Mona was one of the most influential people in my early development and by far one of the most important people and relatives in my life. My “Nanny Mona” even lived with me when I was really young for a bit and helped raise me, much like how she helped raise my Dad and his other siblings. Even into my early teen years after she moved back to Arkansas, I used to go stay at her house and sleep on her couch from time to time. It seems like just a month or two ago when my dad and I went to see her in Louisiana in 2019 a few months before COVID started. I will miss her so, so very much as I already do. I intend to continue on, doing my best to live in a manner that will show my love, respect, and admiration for the incredible woman that helped raise me as she did much of my family. My Nanny Mona will remain in my heart and mind for the rest of time. I love you, Nanny. -Joseph K.
