“ Roy, you will be truly missed. It was a pleasure having known you. I'll never forget all the stories you'd tell over and over. You loved these grandchildren more than words can say. We will spend the rest of our days reminding them of how great of a Pop you were. I'm thankful that you're not in pain anymore but sad that you're gone. Just know you won't need to worry about your family you leave behind. They have a great support system and always will. Your legacy will live on in the hearts of everyone that knew and loved you. I couldn't have asked for a better father-in-law. Until we meet again, rest easy and fly high. We'll be missing and loving you until that day.

“ Where do I even start...you were my first love, you were my everything & will always be a HUGE part of my life. I'll miss you always, but I'll carry you in my heart and love with all the memories we've made. Fishing, working on 4-wheelers, just everything. Forever Daddy's Girl!!
Love you always, Daddy!!

Roy was our Eddie when we were all kids. When you saw Eddie, you saw Junior. But more likely it was the threesome with their Dad. All 3 were tinkers. They could make a junk yard run and made something from their finds. Eddie was always so polite and just a cute freckled nose young boy, who was perfectly groomed. He was a great model for all younger brothers for his loyalty and respect.
