Susan's hobbies were needle pointing, sewing, crocheting, cooking, and reading. She enjoyed spending time with her two sons and loved her granddaughter, Crystal. Susan was smart and could google anything and figure it out. Everyone loved going to her house because she was fun and easy going. Two of her nieces, Rachael and Jennifer, thought she was an amazing nanny that was very spunky and feisty. Susan's spirit and infectious smile will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved her.

Brother Joey Chauvin, son Logan Chauvin, daughter Lauren and husband Blade Hall, and brother Terry Chauvin, wife Tracy, daughter Kendal McMullen and Madison and husband Reuben Waters.

“ I have no other words except to say that I am heartbroken. This was my amazing, smart, witty, kind aunt. Not only was she my aunt but she was my godmother. She has always held a special place in my heart and life. I remember going to her house, playing games, going to get take out, her making my Barbies clothes, snuggling in bed and being picked on by my older cousin and brother because I was the annoying younger cousin. My Nanny always had time for me. This continued through adolescence and adulthood. I am forever changed by her influence and love. I am so heartbroken that she is gone and that I will never get to hear her voice again, that we will never be able to pick at each other or laugh with each other again. I will love you forever Nanny.

“ Mom, I just wanted to say thank you for everything you did for us. You loved us unconditionally. You taught us how to be kind and you also showed us how people should be treated and how we should treat other people. You never turned anyone away, if they needed something to eat, you showed us to feed them and if someone needed a place to sleep, go make them a bed. You taught us to work hard for what we want and you taught us to live within our means. You showed us that no matter how much of a struggle life is to keep on pushing forward. Your cooking will always be missed. To say you will be missed is truly an understatement! I've said many times that we had the best momma in the world. I've had so many friends and family reach out to me since you went to heaven and I know that you are now one of God's angels. I know life will definitely not be easy without you here with cy and me and Crystal (tweety) but I promise with all my heart to do the best I can to help them make it through these hard times. I will always miss riding in the car with you jamming your tunes while you would sing out loud. I'll never forget your smile or your laugh. I miss both so much already. I miss you so much and I will always love you with all my heart momma...

“ I am so sorry to hear the loss of Miss. Sue. She was kind, loving and always treated my sister and I as family. She would knit me things such as coasters, scarves and even headbands. She made sure we always had a hot meal when visited. I enjoyed her company and I'm thankful to know her. I'm praying for the family during this difficult time. To know her was a pleasure.

“ Man mom what can I say the love you gave to me and Chris literally unconditional love you were definitely the definition of that I truly am missing you so much to the point it hurts my heart. But I guess the good lord had other plans for you and paco and lil saint how I wish I could just turn back the hands of time. Just once to tell you how much you mean to me and that I love you with all my heart. The days to come will not be easy but I will always have you in my mind and heart there will be many days were it might seem impossible to push on but I promise you I will do the best that I can to keep on pushing. The time I had with you was so short it feels like it was just yesterday that you were banging pots and pans early in the morning to get me up to go to work. You always knew how to get me up in the mornings to start my day lol. Anyways I really miss you so much right now. People always told me to always spend as much time with your mom as you can you only get one and I'm so glade that I spent a tremendous amount of time with you but it seems like it just still wasn't enough. I love you mom and I miss you I know your in heaven finally walking and doing anything that you want. Ok then I'll talk to you later mom and thank you for never giving up on me you always did have so much more faith in me then I ever had love Cy.

Cy, I just want you to know how very well said that was and I also wanted you to always know how proud of you she always was but especially after you completed or passed your rehab program. Which she didn't want anyone to know. But like I've learned myself is that everyone has there own program and I just wanted to reiterate the fact of how proud she was of you that day! I love you with all my heart and I hope you know this. Also just the fact that all the people that have been checking on us all seem to have our best interest at heart and mom didn't really teach us to trust people easily. I am so proud of the man you are becoming, always try to keep your head up because that's what mom would have wanted. Even though we are torn apart right now I've been trying my hardest to show you that I will always be there for you. I will never be able to replace the only person we had in our lives that never judged us. I love you little brother and I'm always only a phone call away.

Your moms love was endless & unbreakable That love doesn't disappear with her passing bc it actually gets stronger thru you and Cy by her memories you'll always carry in your hearts.

I want to convey my sincere condolences to Mary, your grandmother and all of your mothers sibilings. I know the days ahead will certainly not be easy, but remember that you are never alone.

To my sons I pray you honor your mom by living the kind of lives that would make her most proud.

God Bless You All.& May Her Soul Rest In Peace.

“ I will miss talking to you every day and all the times we spent together. I will especially miss your delicious crawfish etouffee. I know you are in heaven and at peace. Love you

Oh aunt Donna your comment got me last night. I don't think I've broken down like I've needed to yet but just the fact that you 2 were so close and you were her best friend. I'm so sorry I haven't called you, I feel like I let you down but we did try everything in our power to get her out the house but when we went outside to take a breath they wouldn't let us back in. Out of everyone you are the person that treated us the same everytime you came and visit and everytime we went to visit you. I love you with all my heart and I always will. Thank you for always loving me and my brother like your sons and thank you for loving our momma unconditionally.

“ I have many cherished memories growing up of Aunt Susan. Every summer from childhood until high school I would spend several weeks in the summer at her home visiting with my cousin Chris. I am not sure which one of us was the worst troublemaker but I know we kept Aunt Susan busy with our antics. Everything Aunt Susan had she was willing to share whether it be money, food, or advise. She was very generous. She was one of the most genuine and non-judgmental people I have ever had the pleasure of knowing. Although, I did not see her often as an adult, I have no doubt I am a changed and better person for having known her.

I hate to take that title away from you Steven but we both know I was the worst trouble maker. Also my mom always loved you so much she often told me how proud she was of her nephew. I love you cuz and even though you didn't see her often she always thought about you. I love you cuz
