Veronica DeBlanc was born on August 3, 1942, in St. Martinville, Louisiana and she was a resident of Lafayette Parish for many years. She was an amazing person who would be the shining light in any space she came into. She had a knack for conversation, and there were no strangers amongst her. She was an incredibly talented artist of all things, she could create anything that she felt she wanted to, from painting, knitting, crocheting, sewing, etc. She had the biggest heart and huge love for her kids and family. She was an extremely independent woman with firm beliefs of staying true to herself. Veronica was quite an adventurous lady who shared that passion with her kids. She had an incredible level of kindness with anyone and thrived on helping others. She also had a deep connection with God and allowed that guidance in her life. She has left a huge mark upon this world in so many ways and we are all so grateful to have had her for the time we had. She was an amazing mother that gave great strength to her kids, there will be no one else like her.

Veronica was survived by her children, Lisa Dayton & Nicole Crochet; her grandchildren, Brett Dayton, Holly Menna, Casey Dayton, Jacob Orgeron, and Christian Orgeron; her great grandchildren, Avenlia & Cambria Dayton (Brett & Amelia Dayton), Addis & Dewhit Menna (Tekki & Holly Menna), Jonah, Ainsley & Corbin Dayton (Casey & Emily Dayton); her siblings, Dolly LeMaire, Louise DeBlanc, Melanie Pogue, Catherine DeBlanc, and Michael DeBlanc.

Preceded in death by her sons, James Orgeron, and Sean Orgeron; her parents, Bertrand and Lillian DeBlanc; her siblings, Daniel DeBlanc, Bertrand DeBlanc, and Denise Burris.

So sorry to hear of the passing of Veronica. She was my close friend from childhood, teenager, to adulthood. She was my maid of honor at my wedding in 1965. She will always be known for her kindness and amazing artistic talents. She was a wonderful mother. Her love and care for her children was always first in her life. Her talents in are of any type were beyond imagination. Amazingly creative person. I will miss her smiling face and bright light she always possessed

*. Please accept my deepest sympathy about the passing of Veronica. Please know that my husband (Jimmy) and I are thinking about family members during this difficult time. Our hearts are with you.
